THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE

Department of Critical Care

APPLY NOW

Disaster and Terror Medicine Scholarships for Victorian Paramedics

Thanks to a generous philanthropic donation from Mr John Gandel AC and Mrs Pauline Gandel AC, ten scholarships will be awarded to Victorian Paramedics to cover the full fees of enrolment in the Specialist Certificate in Disaster and Terror Medicine at The University of Melbourne, commencing in late January 2027

Applications will be invited from Victorian Paramedics who:

- Meet the enrolment criteria for the Specialist Certificate in Disaster and Terror Medicine.
- Are available to enrol and attend the course from late Jan 2027 to end June 2027. Note, the course is mostly online with two intensive face-to-face weekend workshops on 13-14 March and 19-20 June.
- If successful, will attend webinars, contribute to discussion boards and complete assignments.
- Are available for interview if required.

When:
Submit your Expression of Interest by COB Wed 25th November 2026

Where:
Submit your EOI:
https://redcap.link/0um19zah

Contact us:
disastermed-critcare@unimelb.edu.au

Follow us on LinkedIn:
www.linkedin.com/company/department-of-critical-care

Join our mailing list:

Note: the scholarships are pending approval by the University's Academic Board. EOIs are being sought now to enable prompt enrolment once approval is granted, in time for the 2027 Jan start.

The University of Melbourne (Australian University) PRV12150 / CRICOS 00116K